I _____, agree to participate in the class/classes that I or my parents/guardians have selected without grumbling or complaining (Philippians 2:14), to the best of my abilities. I will strive to be respectful to those in authority over me (1 Peter 5:5), and show no favoritism among my peers (James 2:1-13) and be an example to those younger than me (Hebrews 13:16). Striving to add diligence, faith, virtue, knowledge, self-control, perseverance, kindness, love (2 Peter 1:5-8), and the wisdom to fear the Lord (Psalms 111:10) in all that I do.

I have read the entire Forging Paths website in lieu of a handbook and I willingly submit to all policies and rules, specifically (but not limited to) the electronics policy*, the conflict resolution policy and the modesty policy.

With integrity, I will complete the assignments asked of me. All assignment deadlines are my responsibility solely, not the responsibility of my parents.

*All electronics are prohibited from use during opening worship and during class time, unless specific permission is granted by a teacher or board member.

It is the responsibility of all Believers (and Co-op members) to refrain from gossip. Any problems, disputes, or hurt feelings should not be discussed with uninvolved parties. Instead, sincere attempts should be made with the conflict resolution volunteer (when necessary) to reconcile the situation. If another Co-op member tries to engage in a grumbling session, a good strategy is to simply refer them to the conflict resolution volunteer.

 Signature required on separate Modesty Policy form.
